The Book of Daniel

CHAPTER 1

In the third year of the reign of Je-hoi'-a-kim King of Judah came u'-chad-nez'-zar king of Babylon and besieged it.

8 But I purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: there-fore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might defile himself.

An Ordered Life

In Psalm 119:133, the writer says 'Order my steps in your word and let not any iniquity have dominion over me'. The Psalmist claims over and over that he loves the law of the Lord, and that he longs to do what it says.

There are many people who think that psalms like this are legalistic or boring. However, they are very important. The law was given to order Israel's life according to the beat of God's rhythm. And those who follow the rules, do their duty, and abide by the covenant, experience much more freedom in their life than those who choose to live without order or responsibility.

Surely there are things in life that you like to do or see, and all of us have a certain way we like things to look or to be. But in order to get good results, it will require us to dedicate ourselves to principles, ethics, and values.

God calls us to an ordered life, not because he likes to tell you what to do; but because it will make you appreciate what you've done.
